THE LIFE OF INLAND WATERS

John Wolseley

1-20 May 2018

Since 2011, John has been making drawings and paintings about river systems, trees and plants of East Arnhem Land. In particular, he has been painting the plants of the great flood plains of Garajarra and Garajarra where he has been hosted and instructed by Mulkun Wirrpanda the great Yolngu artist and Dhudi-Djapu clan leader. During those years she painted a vast series of barks and larrakitj about the edible plants of the region. An installation Midawarr/Harvest showed these works of Mulkun's together with a long scroll painting by John which included images of the same food plants. This exhibition was recently shown at the National Museum of Australia, Canberra and is now touring across the continent.

The paintings by John in this exhibition The Life of Inland Waters represent distillations and extensions of that earlier project.

Four of Mulkun Wirrpanda's works are also shown in this exhibition, to acknowledge her extraordinary talent and importance and to pay respect to her generosity and friendship.
