MEDIA RELEASE

Exhibition Dates: 15 September - 4 October 2015
15 Royston Street Paddington NSW 2021
Open 7 days 10am to 6pm

Alex Kosmas' current exhibition Terra presents a new series of works created from a variety of sculptural media. As well as the highly regarded trees he masterfully renders in bronze and copper, Kosmas brings to life a series of monumental ceramic mountainscapes, both breathtakingly beautiful and foreboding in their grandeur. These mountains are not informed by a specific place, rather they are an imagined landscape which has recurred in his mind for decades, now realised in the physical realm by the artist's hand.

Terra, from the Latin 'Terra Nullius' meaning 'nobody's land' points to both the abstract nature of these unreal land formations as well as the atmosphere conjured by the word, which captures perfectly the mood of these beautiful yet menacing mountains when viewed en masse.

Kosmas proves once again that he is a true master of the sculptural form through his ability to manipulate bronze, copper and clay to communicate every nuance, from the detailed and delicate to the boldest spectacles of nature.

Terra is current until 4 October 2015
