MEDIA RELEASE

Exhibition Dates: 25 June - 14 July 2019

Print Room Gallery

28 Derby Street Collingwood VIC 3066

Open 7 days 10am to 6pm

Sculptor and printmaker, Chris Ingham was born in Adelaide. He is currently living and working in Melbourne, where he divides his time between his art practice and part-time work as a printmaking technician at the Australian Print Workshop. He spent many years working at Fundere Fine Art Foundry, casting monumental bronze sculptures, leading to him develop and pursue his own style of making small and quirky bronze figures.

Chris has participated in numerous residencies in both Europe and North America, and along with this has exhibited his work widely and has been included in many prize shows here in Australia.

Chris' work explores traditional mediums and methods of making art, coupled with an expressive and gestural personal mark making style, that is heavily reliant on spontaneity and freshness.

This exhibition presents a selection of lithographs created during the artist's recent residency at the Steindruck Workshop in Munich, shown alongside his highly engaging small scale figurative bronze sculptures. This is Chris' first exhibition with Australian Galleries.

Urban Characters is current until 14 July 2019.
